To whom it may concern,

Please accept this as my application for the position of Web Application Developer. Through a range of education and work experience I have discovered a passion for learning and desire to challenge myself.

My path began with a formal education in Engineering. I graduated from the University of Saskatchewan in 2015 with a degree in Civil Engineering. My time spent working towards that degree was very valuable; however, I quickly learned that it was not my true calling. It didn't take me long to discover web development was an excellent fit. I found it satisfied my interest in technology while still allowing me the creative outlet to see a project through from start to finish. I completed the Web Development Course through CareerFoundry in 2XXX and have detailed a few specific examples of skills and areas of strength:

- Web Development – (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, whatever you are proficient in)
- Proficient in app development, testing and troubleshooting of all functions
- Strong attention to detail and exceptional written communications skills
- Dedicated to developing dynamic, user friendly products and experiences
- Committed to work with both clients and team members to deliver a superior product

I have included a link to recently completed projects; this should give you an idea of the quality of work I produce. <https://zaclinz.github.io/portfolio-website/work.html>.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you to further discuss the position and how I can become a member of the team.

Sincerely,
Zachary Linzmeyer
